September 2022

What a month we have had! We have enjoyed endless days of sunshine, but watched in horror as our precious plants have wilted. Even our famous Duck Race, which is normally one of the highlights of the Avening Fete, is unlikely to happen. There is simply no water into which the ducks can be launched. We are doubtless beginning to realise how difficult life must be for countless millions, who live in countries where rain is always scarce.

On a brighter note, the Café has kept going during this summer and they have had the delight of giving two of their most popular members, Jim Hill and Derrick Ind, their heartfelt congratulations on their Important Birthdays!

Having had the excitement of the Cherington Fete in July, the Avening Fete is here again and as we write, we are looking forward to a happy day, enjoying everything that will be on offer and also the Art Exhibition, which offers many of our talented friends the opportunity to show all of us their remarkable work.

September means the start of the new school year and we wish every success to all students, both at our Primary School and those moving on to their Secondary Schools or further education, including University. September also sees the return of the Avening Cinema Club - details further on in this edition.

Letter From Avening Parish Council Leader

A date for your diaries; Sunday 11th September is the Church/Village Fete. Always an enjoyable experience meeting up with neighbours and fellow villagers. After the recent dry weather, the duck race may be at some risk but I'm sure an alternative format can be arranged if necessary. I notice that an optimistic banner is already in place promoting the appearance of the ducks. Fingers crossed.

Villager of the Year Award – Is there someone in the village that you would like to be recognised for their contribution to the community. It's a nice way of saying thank you for works that may otherwise go unacknowledged. Any nominations please, asap to parishclerk@avening-pc.gov.uk.

Memorial Hall – Taking advantage of the school holiday break, various works were completed in the first two weeks; there are some electrical updates to finish, subject to the various experts being available. The main hall and Chamberlain room have now been redecorated. This included extensive repairs to walls prior to painting and the installing of a new door to the cellar, together with a new exterior door frame to the double entrance doors into the Chamberlain room. Outside we have also put in a 'French drain' (a deep trench filled with gravel) along the south side in an effort to alleviate the problem of persistent rising damp in the south wall. New LED ceiling lights have replaced the old fluorescent strip lights making the hall much brighter with a lower running cost. My special thanks to Mickel and his team of workers for the effort they put into the project.

Playing Field – Really good to see that the first of the two Play Gloucestershire's - Play Rangers events went very well. All the children looked to be enjoying the variety of games and the weather was kind as well.

Roads Issues – Requests for some traffic calming signs on Star Lane to reduce the risk caused by the blind corners and speeding drivers have been rejected by Highways. Their view is that all drivers should be aware of the hazards of driving in country lanes. On that premise, once we have passed our driving tests, we all become perfect drivers, not experienced it myself yet! We will keep asking; as the saying goes 'it's the squeaky wheel that gets the oil'.

Tour of Britain (& Avening!) – The riders and their entourage pass through Avening on 9th Sept at approximately 1.00pm; the riders will be coming past Minchinhampton Golf Club and then left at The Matilda and up Tetbury Hill. The new surface on Tetbury Hill is reminiscent of motoring in bygone years prior to the plague of potholes we now have to endure; make the most of the opportunity as we know that this stretch can't be interfered with until at least 9th Sept. I wonder how long it will be until the first trench is needed?

The Stream – Tony Slater is our nominated Parish Councillor for the environment and has written an update as a separate article in this copy of the Villager which I would ask you to read. Please come back to Tony with any comments, questions or views.

Planning – There are new plans being proposed for the site of The Old Quarries. The developers are holding an exhibition of the scheme in the Memorial Hall on Saturday 20th Aug, which I know is before the date of this publication; however, if you want details they will be available in due course from Cotswold District Council.

As previously advised there was no Parish Council Meeting this month and as such there is no Parish Clerk's Report. The next PC meeting is in September and monthly thereafter.

Best wishes to everyone.

Avening and Cherington Churches

After a month of real summer weather, we welcome you back, hoping you have enjoyed your time with friends and family. The month has raced by.

There will be mixed emotions as the children start back to playgroup or school. On Tuesday September 6th, our annual Tea and Tissues social will take place in the church from 8:40am. Parents, grandparents and carers can drop the children off at the school gate or at playgroup and join us for coffee, tea, cake and chat. We will be there until 10:30 for a chance to meet up with other families, talk through problems or solutions and enjoy a bit of a break. Toys will be out for young children.

Avening Church Fete will be held on Sunday, September 11th, at 2pm near the church. Including games for the children, Elegant Sausages, a wonderful Dog Show, the famous Duck Races, bargains galore, the Great Art Show and with the Avening Silver Band in attendance: It is a great day out. In the church there will also be a display from the Church Archives for you to look through.

Holy Cross Church dates from at least the year 1080, and the feast of the Holy Cross is our church Feast Day. We will celebrate together on Sunday, September 18th with a special service devised by the Maslens, followed by drinks and cake in the church. Please do join us at 10 am for this village party.

On the last Sunday of September we hope you will come along to the church to celebrate the Harvest Festival, again at 10am. God has blessed us with the earth's bounty, all around us here in the country. It is distressing to know that there are many people in need, even in our own community. If you can, please bring a donation for the Food Bank to the service and we will deliver it to the Food Bank in the following few days. The Flower Team would be very grateful for any produce you can offer them for decorating the church. Please would you bring the produce to the church on Friday?

After the service, we will hold another party, with drinks and nibbles.

Suddenly, September is offering us opportunities to get out and about! We're looking forward to it all.

Gilian's Poem of the Month

Copper, 31, and Casper, 28, were two old ponies who spent a happy Autumn retirement together, in a sheltered paddock along Westend.

In their younger days they taught many village children to ride, and gave hours of pleasure and enjoyment in lessons, on countryside hacks, at Pony Club rallies, and competing in local gymkhanas, shows, and events.

Those children are now grown up, with children of their own, but many will still have fond memories of Copper and Casper...

Golden Days

As the sun's first tender rays
Break through the mists of dawn,
Copper and Casper stretch old limbs,
And wake to a golden morn.

As opal skies turn hazy blue
They graze on the dewy grass,
Copper and Casper, warm in the sun,
As their Autumn day's drift past.

When noonday sunshine blazes down
They seek the shady trees,
Copper and Casper, dozing now,
Cooled by a gentle breeze.

Then, in the heat of the afternoon,
They drink from the flowing stream,
Copper and Casper, at peace with their world,
As they stand together, and dream.

And in the golden evening light
They remember those days gone by.
Copper and Casper, side by side,
As the red sun sinks in the sky.

At last as the scented darkness falls,
As bright stars shine high above,
Copper and Casper, together forever,
Sleep on ...remembered with love.....

Gilian Bulmer-Davison

Letters to the Editors

Hello all, my name is Krista Jones. I have been a resident of Avening for 5 years now. After receiving a surprise offer to run on behalf of a charity, I have decided to take on the mammoth task of running the London Marathon! I will be representing Cancer Research UK, a charity that means a lot to me. Cancer has affected me in several ways, including losing my mother to breast cancer, but last year I became a survivor myself.

In June of 2021, I was diagnosed with cervical cancer. I still struggle to put my experience into words, but it was shocking, devastating and, thankfully, brief. Thanks to the brilliant and urgent care I received, I was cancer-free just 2.5 weeks after my diagnosis. I feel so incredibly lucky that my cancer story had such an amazing outcome, but I know that many have a much tougher cancer journey. That's why I felt compelled to fundraise and run for Cancer Research UK; so that more people can have an outcome like mine.

I have currently raised £1,010 of my £2,000 goal. Anyone who could spare time to visit my fundraising page or make a donation would be most greatly appreciated. Not only by me, but by those who will ultimately be helped by your generosity. You can get in touch with me via my phone number (07824428527), my email (leffersk@gmail.com), or donate via my fundraising page (<https://fundraise.cancerresearchuk.org/page/kristas-london-marathon>). And if you see me running all around Avening during my training, wish me luck! I could use all the encouragement I can get to make it to that start line October 2. Thank you for reading!

Krista Jones

Avening Playgroup

As usual, the work does not stop for the staff during the summer holiday. It is a time to catch up with paperwork and training. There have also been some adjustments to the Keeping Children Safe in Education document and to the Early Years Foundation Stage which means we have to update policies and procedures.

Staff are also looking at how resources are stored and presented, and updating labels and photos so that the children can easily identify what resources are where.

During the summer we have also secured a new supplier for our staff uniform and the samples we have been shown look great!

Great news! The playgroup has been very fortunate to receive a grant from the Avening Church of England Educational Fund (ACEEF) and we would like to thank them very much for this. This will be used to improve the outdoor area which is looking worn and tired. Initially, we will have the playground repainted and are looking forward to seeing some brighter and additional animals, games and signs.

Please note that playgroup will start back on Wednesday 7th September 2022 and the Annual General Meeting is scheduled for Tuesday 20th September 2022 at 7pm. We have a very welcoming committee and would be very grateful for any help or support people can offer in a whole range of areas. Please do come along to the AGM if you are a parent of a child attending the playgroup or if you are interested in supporting this vital community service.

The Play Gloucestershire Play Rangers come to Avening!

The hazy lazy days of summer were enlivened when, on two Fridays in August, the Play Rangers arrived at the playing field in the blue Play Bus. They were soon unpacking and setting up a shady tarpaulin. We knew they could cope with rain but had not anticipated a heatwave! One of the days was particularly hot but they had a good supply of water and parents were on hand to provide a top up if required. Children and families started to arrive from all directions and were soon engaged in whichever play took their fancy. Among other things they enjoyed badminton, tug o'war, skipping games with the long rope, water fights, bubble blowing and, in the shade, there were quieter activities, painting and creating a world with toys and shaving foam! And of course, some of them enjoyed using the increasing range of play apparatus now provided in the playing field.

Comments from people at the time included: 'the children loved it', 'lots of people turned up, everyone is looking forward to next week', 'really good and well attended.',

'the play rangers were lovely!', 'I got really hot playing football and the ranger gave me a drink of water'.

The two Play Days were jointly funded by the Parish Council and Avening Church of England Education Fund..

Write a Will Scheme During September

Write a Will this September, and ensure your loved ones are looked after in the future

Longfield Community Hospice has teamed up with three local solicitors to offer a Write a Will scheme during September. Longfield is a Community Hospice based in Minchinhampton, Gloucestershire. As well as providing Hospice at Home care, Longfield also offers help and support to patients, families and carers through a range of Wellbeing services at the hospice in Minchinhampton. For media enquiries, please contact Jo Fairburn, Media and Communications Officer at jo.fairburn@longfield.org.uk or call 01453 886868.

Writing a Will is one important way to make sure loved ones are taken care of in the future, but many of us still haven't done it.

The hospice has teamed up with three local solicitors to make writing or amending your Will easy and affordable. Throughout September, each solicitor is giving their time for free to support the hospice's work. Instead of paying legal fees, people taking part in the scheme will make a much-needed donation to help patients and families across Gloucestershire. The suggested donation is £90 for a single basic Will and £160 for a pair of basic 'mirror' Wills.

"We'd like to say a huge thank you to the solicitors for getting involved and supporting Longfield in this way," said Rachel Jones, Head of Fundraising and Marketing. "By giving their time and expertise for free, they're helping us provide care for families across Gloucestershire when they need it the most."

"We're also grateful to everyone who chooses to leave a gift in their Will to Longfield, which is not a mandatory part of the scheme. It's an incredibly generous gesture and means we can continue our vital work supporting patients, families and carers, now and in the future."

Stream Update

Readers will probably be aware that we have had 'low flow' events with the stream for just over two years, and that earlier this summer the stream dried up completely. Sudden low flow events have been caused by works at both Aston Farm in Cherington, and Avening Court, but despite working with the Environment Agency (EA) during this time the main cause of the stream's death has never been identified.

By the Club in Woodstock Lane

Steve Pryor feeds stranded trout by Avening Mill

Two requests to Avening Court this summer to release water from their pond system have been ignored (repairs to their dam caused the flow to stop completely this summer), and the leaky new stream path at Aston still loses much of the spring water before it gets to Cherington Lake. The EA continue working through legal and retrospective planning requirements with the estate in regards to the new pond and earthworks.

However, these are likely only to be contributory factors, so I put this to the EA asking what they thought was the main cause, and if the additional 800 houses in Tetbury could be draining the aquifer that feeds our system? Their response was less than helpful, suggesting the main cause was 'climate change', and that I should contact the water authority for Tetbury to find where they sourced their water.

I have politely but firmly pointed out that it is actually their job to understand the impacts of housing development on the environment, and that the stream has never before in living memory dried up, even during the longer, hotter drought of 1976! I have requested a proper response from them and will share this when received (my questions and the EA response are available on the website).

Meanwhile, I would like to thank the dedicated stream watchers in the village for reporting issues to the EA and keeping me up to date with the desperate plight of the dependent wildlife – it was only 2 summers ago that we had otters in the Sandford Leaze section!

Playing Bridge During the Pandemic

Playing bridge at a friendly club (such as the one in Wotton) usually involves playing about eight sets of three hands, each set against different opponents. During an evening's (or afternoon's) session you will meet many other members, hence it is a very social activity as well as being intellectually challenging.

Then, in March 2020, came the pandemic! Umpteen thousands of bridge clubs around the world had to close their doors, for well over a year as it turned out. How would the countless millions of bridge players get their bridge fix – bridge is very addictive? The solution for the vast majority of players was to go online and bridge is very well suited to this. Various online platforms had been around for many years, but they all had to make very significant upgrades to their systems to cope with the sudden massive influx of players. The largest system was an American one called 'Bridge Base Online'. At any time of day or night, there could be more than 10,000 people somewhere in the world playing bridge on BBO. The main drawback to all these systems, however, is that you can't see other players or talk to them – you can only converse using "chat" boxes (as you do with text messages); although you could have a WhatsApp group running alongside, or even a Zoom meeting.

The most remarkable achievement, however, was that of 'RealBridge', a platform that was developed from scratch, in the UK, initially by just two people, in less than a year. This platform, from the outset, included a built-in facility to literally see and talk to the other players at the table. This was the nearest you could get to playing live bridge, simulating a club environment. RealBridge is now used by 600 clubs world-wide.

One very interesting side-effect of playing online is that Richard (one of our members) can play with his brother John, who lives in Stafford, without either leaving their sofa! Andy and Julie moved away to Newcastle just before the pandemic, but they still play (online) with the club in Chipping Sodbury. There is nothing actually stopping four people playing together – each living in a different country!

Online bridge has kept many bridge players entertained and occupied throughout the pandemic, but the result is a changed world – online bridge will remain an inherent part of almost every club's offering from hereon.

Wotton Bridge Club went back to meeting "face-to-face" in September last year but had to close again in early December as the Omicron variant became prevalent. We re-opened in March this year, once again playing at the Civic Centre every Wednesday evening. We have retained, however, an additional weekly online session on Monday evenings. We also have two online afternoon sessions per week, primarily for less-experienced players, and are once again going to offer lessons starting this autumn.

If you're looking for a fun activity, why not come and join us? Further information is available on the Wotton Club's website – www.bridgewebs.com/wotton or ask Avening resident Tim Payne (tc.payne@icloud.com).

Howzat...Not Out Rule 23

Every time I pass the old Cricket Ground in Cherington I get a whiff of nostalgia and think of all the good times and friends I had and made while playing cricket. Sadly the playing was taken away by the current owners refusal to allow the noble game to be played anymore on the ground where for decades cricket was played.

Howzat...Not out Rule 23 came about one day when a lady umpire, who to this day I have never seen again in local cricket, was asked in the time honoured fashion, Howzat, which for the non-cricket people means the fielding side have asked for a decision about if the batsman was in or out. So she delivered the verdict, Not Out Rule 23....well, for a moment there was stunned silence as no one on the fielding side wanted to admit they didn't know what rule 23 was. Then someone either bravely or otherwise asked what the rule was...she just smiled and said Not Out Rule 23...common sense. This lady was very good at the task in hand and had a wicked sense of humour.

I must have been about 11 or 12 years old when my father John came home and announced that Avening was to have a cricket team, formed by Arthur Winters, the village policeman, Don Hopes, Colin Chesterman, Lionel Anderton and himself with some initial financial aid being provided by Noel Maslin. Games were to be played on the football ground at the top of Tetbury hill (sadly another village asset that is no more) My father was the first Avening Fixture Secretary and his dogged efforts resulted in gaining all the initial fixtures.

As the ground was used by the football club it was difficult or near impossible to play on a grass wicket so all the games were played on a Coconut matting which was very unique in the area and teams liked to play us for the experience of playing on a matt.

In the early years before the football pavilion was ready for use the cricket teas were taken in the Memorial Hall, provided by the players wives and partners — always a good spread, a tradition which was carried on right up until the end of play at Cherington. However, in those days tea was dispensed from a tea urn but on the first occasion nobody had thought about a bag to hold the tea leaves, tea bags not being around in those days. To overcome this omission one of the tea ladies who shall remain nameless whipped off her tights and put the tea leaves in them and into the urn. No one mentioned this to the players and the ladies were praised for their efforts...needless to say those who knew didn't drink the tea!

Cricket was always and is still a very social game; by that I mean we always ended up in the local pub and we had one advantage over many teams in that Don Hopes could play the piano, which most pubs had in those days, so a good sing song was always had which made the beer flow more easily.

There were always incidents which caused mirth and merriment and sometimes a bit of niggle as well, one such event being when Charlie Uzzell, running backwards trying to take a catch out in the deep field, failed to realise how close he was to the river before he fell in, much to everyone's joy. Similarly, Dave Stratford when umpiring at Andoversford was told by the opposing batsman that we had never beaten them. Two minutes later the last man batting had his pads rattled and the shout of Howzat went up and as Dave raised his finger to signal the batsman was out he remarked to the other batsman..."well, we have now!" Didn't go down too well.

Over the years there were many very good players and one such player, sadly no longer with us, was my very good friend Mark Townsend, more commonly known as Kermit. Great left arm bowler, lightning in the field and very handy with the bat and he also had a wicked sense of humour. Well, playing cricket was where Mark got the nickname Kermit from. One day a young aspiring cricketer turned up to play for the first time all dressed in green clothing, so the shout went up "Kermit's arrived", the name stuck and forever after that he was, and is, affectionately known as Kermit.

Over the years Avening and later on Avening and Cherington as they amalgamated produced many fine cricketers and always had a proud reputation for being a very good team to play and were backed up by all the unsung heroes who ran the club, prepared the ground, and the wonderful band of tea ladies providing such excellent teas.

The annual cricket club dinner held at the Social Club in Avening was always a grand affair and we were fortunate to have had in the past guest speakers such as John Simpson the well known TV journalist, and Dominic Lawson, son of Nigel Lawson, the Ex Chancellor of the Exchequer, who played for us on a Sunday and who usually brought all sorts of well-known people and celebrities down from London with him.

Having played for 30 years, being involved with the Cricket Club provided me and others with a 'social glue' where good friends were found and good times had, which is greatly missed as I loved to watch the younger guys playing and there were always people who attended the games from the past where we used to catch up and reminisce. This pleasure sadly now a thing of the past.

As a final comment I would ask that if you are fortunate to have a few 'bob' and a bit of land to spare to think twice before undoing decades of pleasure had by so many, Country life is not all about building castles and walls to hide behind; its about being part of a community.

Ian Hamilton

Avening WI

Following their visit to Avening last year, Stonehouse WI extended a warm welcome to our members to join them for a historical walk around Stonehouse and an afternoon tea in a member's garden. The weather was as warm as the welcome when 16 of our members and a similar number of Stonehouse ladies set off from the old Crown and Anchor pub, now a doctor's surgery, for a tour of the many interesting buildings around the town. We learned that Stonehouse was famous for brickmaking in the 19th and 20th centuries, due to the availability of the raw materials, and saw several buildings built with the local bricks. We also visited a beautiful community garden on the site of a former chapel, a very peaceful spot tucked away behind the shops on the main street. We ended our walk in the stunning gardens belonging to a Stonehouse member where shady gazebos had been set out and we were revived with drinks and a huge selection of homemade cakes. A very enjoyable afternoon.

Our next meeting in September will be on Thursday 8th at 7.30 pm when Susan Parslow will give an illustrated talk on the Highlights of Bath. Susan is a Blue Badge guide for the south of England who loves to share fascinating stories about long ago events and the colourful characters who have impacted on the development of Britain.

Our group will be serving cream teas, cakes and drinks in the newly refurbished Memorial Hall during the Avening Village Fete on Sunday 11th September. We also offer a Bite to Eat catering service for other events in the village – for details see our advert elsewhere in the magazine.

For more information about Avening WI or any of our events please contact our secretary Soo at aveningwi@gmail.com New members and visitors are always welcome.

They will be taken down once they are out of date. Other posters may be removed and recycled once they are faded or to make space for others.
